CLAIMS UNDER 29 U.S.C. § 1132(A)(2)

COMES NOW Plaintiff, Dereck Case, individually and as representative of a Class of Participants and Beneficiaries on behalf of the Generac Power Systems, Inc. Employees 401(k) Savings Plan (the “Plan”), by his counsel, WALCHESKE & LUZI, LLC and KELLER ROHRBACK, L.L.P., as and for a claim against Defendants, alleges and asserts to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances, the following:

INTRODUCTION

1. The essential remedial purpose of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (“ERISA”) is “to protect the beneficiaries of private pension plans.” Nachwalter v. Christie, 805 F.2d 956, 962 (11th Cir. 1986).

2. The law is settled that ERISA fiduciaries have a duty to evaluate fees and expenses when selecting investments as well as a continuing duty to monitor fees and expenses of selected investments and remove imprudent ones. Tibble v. Edison Int'l, 135 S. Ct. 1823, 1828 (2015); 29 U.S.C. § 1104(a)(1)(A) (fiduciary duty includes “defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan”); 29 C.F.R. § 2250.404a-1(b)(i) (ERISA fiduciary must give “appropriate consideration to those facts and circumstances” that “are relevant to the particular investment.”). It is for good reason that ERISA requires fiduciaries to be cost-conscious:

Expenses, such as management or administrative fees, can sometimes significantly reduce the value of an account in a defined-contribution Plan.” Tibble, 135 S. Ct. at 1826, by decreasing its immediate value, and by depriving the participant of the prospective value of funds that would have continued to grow if not taken out in fees.

Sweda v. Univ. of Pa., 923 F.3d 320, 328 (3d Cir. 2019).

3. Defendants, Generac Power Systems, Inc. (“Generac”), the Board of Directors of Generac Power Systems, Inc. (“Board Defendants”), and John Does 1-30 (collectively, “Defendants”), are ERISA fiduciaries as they exercise discretionary authority or discretionary control over the 401(k) defined contribution pension plan – known as the Generac Power Systems, Inc. Employees 401(k) Savings Plan (“The Plan”) – that it sponsors and provides to its employees.

4. Plaintiff alleges that during the putative Class Period (June 8, 2015 through the date of judgment), Defendants, as fiduciaries of the Plan, as that term is defined under ERISA,

1 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A), breached the duties they owed to the Plan, to Plaintiff, and to the other
2 participants of the Plan by, among other things: (1) authorizing the Plan to pay unreasonably
3 high fees for retirement plan services (“RPS”); (2) failing to objectively, reasonably, and 4 adequately review the Plan’s investment portfolio with due care to ensure that each investment
5 option was prudent, in terms of cost; and (3) maintaining certain funds in the Plan despite the 6 availability of identical or similar investment options with lower costs and/or better performance 7 histories.

9 5. These objectively unreasonable RPS fees and investment selections cannot be 10 justified. Defendants’ failures breached the fiduciary duties they owed to Plaintiff, Plan
11 Participants, and beneficiaries. Prudent fiduciaries of 401(k) Plans continuously monitor fees
12 against the market rates, applicable benchmarks, and peer groups to identify objectively
13 unreasonable and unjustifiable fees. Defendants did not engage in a prudent decision-making
14 process, as there is no other explanation for why the Plan paid these objectively unreasonable
15 fees for RPS and investment management.

17 6. To remedy, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of the Plan under 29 U.S.C.
18 § 1132(a)(2) to enforce Defendants’ liability under 29 U.S.C. § 1109(a) to make good to the Plan 19 all losses resulting from their breaches of fiduciary duty.

20 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

22 7. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction in this ERISA matter under 28 U.S.C.
23 § 1331 and pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 1332(e)(1), which provides for federal jurisdiction of actions
24 brought under Title I of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. § 1001 et seq.

25 8. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because they transact
26 business in this District, reside in this District, and have significant contacts with this District, and because ERISA provides for nationwide service of process.

9.       Venue is appropriate in this District within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. §1132(e)(2) because some or all of the violations of ERISA occurred in this District and Defendants reside and may be found in this District. Plaintiff is also located in this District. Venue is also proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391 because Defendants do business in this District and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims asserted herein occurred within the District.

10. In conformity with 29 U.S.C. §1132(h), Plaintiff served the Complaint by certified mail on the Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of the Treasury.

PARTIES

11. Plaintiff, Dereck Case, is a resident of the State of Washington and currently resides in Arlington, Washington, and during the Class Period, was a participant in the Plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1002(7).

12. Staring on February 11, 2017, Plaintiff worked from his home in Arlington, WA, as an Area Sales Manager for the Northwest Region of Generac Mobile Products, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Generac Power Systems, Inc. On January 1, 2021, his titled changed to Market Development Manager.

13. Plaintiff's employment with Generac Mobile was terminated on May 11, 2021.

14. Plaintiff has Article III standing to bring this action on behalf of the Plan because he suffered an actual injury to his own Plan account in which he is still a Participant, that injury is fairly traceable to Defendants' unlawful conduct, and the harm is likely to be redressed by a favorable judgment.

15. It is well settled, moreover, that recovery may be had for the Class Period before

1 Plaintiff personally suffered injury, as that turns on ERISA § 502(a)(2) on which his claim rests.
2 This claim is brought in a representative capacity on behalf of the Plan as a whole and remedies
3 under ERISA § 409 protect the entire Plan. Courts have recognized that a plaintiff with Article
4 III standing, like Plaintiff, may proceed under ERISA § 502(a)(2) on behalf of the Plan and all
5 participants in the Plan. Plaintiff may seek relief under ERISA § 502(a)(2) that sweeps beyond
6 his own injury and beyond any given investment he has held as a Participant in the Plan.

8       16. The named Plaintiff and all Participants in the Plan suffered ongoing financial 9 harm as a result of Defendants' continued imprudent and unreasonable investment and fee
10 decisions made with regard to the Plan.

11       17. The named Plaintiff and all participants in the Plan did not have knowledge of all 12 material facts (including, among other things, the RPS fees, investment alternatives that are 13 comparable to the investments offered within the Plan, comparisons of the costs and investment
14 performance of Plan investments versus available alternatives within similarly-sized Plans, total
15 cost comparisons to similarly-sized Plans, and information regarding other available share 16 classes) necessary to understand that Defendants breached their fiduciary duties and engaged in 17 other unlawful conduct in violation of ERISA until shortly before this suit was filed.
18

19       18. The named Plaintiff and all Participants in the Plan, having never managed a large
20 401(k) Plan such as the Plan, lacked actual knowledge of reasonable fee levels and prudent
21 alternative investments available to such Plans. Further, Plaintiff did not have actual knowledge 22 of the specifics of Defendants' decision-making processes with respect to the Plan (including
23 Defendants' processes for selecting and monitoring the Plan's retirement plan service provider 24 (RPSP)) because this information is solely within the possession of Defendants prior to 25 discovery. For purposes of this Complaint, Plaintiff has drawn reasonable inferences regarding

1 these processes based upon (among other things) the facts set forth below.

2       19.    Generac Power Systems, Inc. (“Generac”) manufactures power products in the 3 marketplace including portable, residential, commercial, and industrial generators. Generac
4 Mobile Products, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Generac, manufactures mobile equipment,
5 including light towers, natural gas and diesel generators, water trailers, trash pumps, heaters, and 6 dust suppression solutions. Generac is located at S45W29290 State Rd 59, Waukesha, WI
7 53189-9071. Generac Mobile is located at 215 Power Dr., Berlin, WI 54923-2420. In this 8 Complaint, “Generac” refers to the named defendant and all parent, subsidiary (including 9 Generac Mobile), related, predecessor, and successor entities to which these allegations pertain.

10       20.    Generac acted through its officers, including the Board Defendants, and their 11 members (John Does 1-10), to perform Plan-related fiduciary functions in the course and scope
12 of their business. Generac appointed other Plan fiduciaries, and accordingly had a concomitant
13 fiduciary duty to monitor and supervise those appointees. For these reasons, Generac is a 14 fiduciary of the Plan, within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A).

15       21.    Generac is both the Plan sponsor and the Plan Administrator of the Generac
16 Power Systems, Inc. Employees 401(k) Savings Plan.

17       22.    As the Plan Administrator, Generac is a fiduciary with day-to-day administration
18 and operation of the Plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A). It has authority and responsibility for 19 the control, management, and administration of the Plan in accord with 29 U.S.C. § 1102(a).
20 Generac has exclusive responsibility and complete discretionary authority to control the 21 operation, management, and administration of the Plan, with all powers necessary to properly 22 carry out such responsibilities.

1       23. Generac in its Plan Administrator capacity, as well as individuals who carried out
2 Plan functions (John Does 11-20), are collectively referred to herein as the “Plan Administrator
3 Defendants.”

4       24. To the extent that there are additional officers and employees of Generac who 5 are/were fiduciaries of the Plan during the Class Period, or other individuals who were hired as 6 investment managers for the Plan during the Class Period, the identities of whom are currently 7 unknown to Plaintiff, Plaintiff reserves the right, once their identities are ascertained, to seek 8 leave to join them to the instant action. Thus, without limitation, unknown “John Doe”
9 Defendants 21-30 include, but are not limited to, Generac officers and employees who are/were 10 fiduciaries of the Plan within the meaning of ERISA Section 3(21)(A), 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A), 11 during the Class Period.

12       25. The Plan is a Section 401(k) “defined contribution” pension Plan under 29 U.S.C.
13 § 1102(2)(A) and 1002(34), meaning that Generac’ contribution to the payment of Plan costs is 14 guaranteed but the pension benefits are not. In a defined contribution Plan, the value of 15 participants’ investments is “determined by the market performance of employee and employer 16 contributions, less expenses.” Tibble, 135 S. Ct. at 1826. Thus, the employer has no incentive to 17 keep costs low or to closely monitor the Plan to ensure every investment remains prudent, 18 because all risks related to high fees and poorly performing investments are borne by the 19 participants.

20       26. As of the end of 2019, the Plan had about $176,000,000 in assets entrusted to the 21 care of the Plan’s fiduciaries. The Plan had substantial bargaining power regarding the fees and 22 expenses that were charged against participants’ investments. Defendants, however, did not 23 sufficiently attempt to reduce the Plan’s fees and expenses or exercise appropriate judgment to monitor each investment option to ensure it was a prudent choice.

27. With 4,034 participants in the year 2019, the Plan had more participants than 99.56% of the defined contribution Plans in the United States that filed 5500 forms for the 2019 Plan year. Similarly, with $175,817,637 in assets in the year 2019, the Plan had more assets than 99.26% of the defined contribution Plans in the United States that filed 5500 forms for the 2019 Plan year.

ERISA'S FIDUCIARY STANDARDS

28. ERISA imposes strict fiduciary standards of loyalty and prudence on Defendants as a Plan fiduciaries. 29 U.S.C. § 1104(a)(1) provides in relevant part:

[A] fiduciary shall discharge his duties with respect to a Plan solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries and –

(A) for the exclusive purpose of:

(i) providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries; and

(ii) defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan; [and]

(B) with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent man acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of like character and with like aims.

29. With certain exceptions, 29 U.S.C. § 1103(c)(1) provides in relevant part:

[T]he assets of a Plan shall never inure to the benefit of any employer and shall be held for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants in the Plan and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan.

30. 29 U.S.C. § 1109 provides in relevant part:

Any person who is a fiduciary with respect to a Plan who breaches any of the responsibilities, obligations, or duties imposed upon fiduciaries by this subchapter shall be personally liable to make good to such Plan any losses to the Plan resulting from each such breach, and to restore to such Plan any profits of such fiduciary which have been made through use of assets of the Plan by the

1 fiduciary, and shall be subject to such other equitable or remedial relief as the 2 court may deem appropriate, including removal of such fiduciary.

3 31. Under ERISA, fiduciaries that exercise any authority or control over Plan assets,
4 including the selection of Plan investments and service providers, must act prudently and for the 5 exclusive benefit of participants in the Plan, and not for the benefit of third parties including 6 service providers to the Plan such as recordkeepers and those who provide investment products.
7 Fiduciaries must ensure that the amount of fees paid to those service providers is no more than 8 reasonable. DOL Adv. Op. 97-15A; DOL Adv. Op. 97-16A; see also 29 U.S.C. §1103(c)(1)
9 (Plan assets “shall be held for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants in the 10 Plan and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan”).

12 32. “[T]he duty to conduct an independent investigation into the merits of a particular 13 investment” is “the most basic of ERISA’s investment fiduciary duties.” In re Unisys Savings
14 Plan Litig., 74 F.3d 420, 435 (3d Cir. 1996); Katsaros v. Cody, 744 F.2d 270, 279 (2nd Cir.
15 1984) (fiduciaries must use “the appropriate methods to investigate the merits” of Plan 16 investments). Fiduciaries must “initially determine, and continue to monitor, the prudence of 17 each investment option available to Plan Participants.” DiFelice v. U.S. Airways, Inc., 497 F.3d
18 410, 423 (4th Cir. 2007); 29 C.F.R. § 2550.404a-1; DOL Adv. Opinion 98-04A; DOL Adv.
19 Opinion 88-16A. Thus, a defined contribution Plan fiduciary cannot “insulate itself from liability 20 by the simple expedient of including a very large number of investment alternatives in its 21 portfolio and then shifting to the participants the responsibility for choosing among them.”
22 Hecker v. Deere & Co., 569 F.3d 708, 711 (7th Cir. 2009). Fiduciaries have “a continuing duty 23 to monitor investments and remove imprudent ones[.]” Tibble, 135 S. Ct. at 1828-29.

26 33. “Wasting beneficiaries’ money is imprudent. In devising and implementing strategies for the investment and management of trust assets, trustees are obligated to minimize

34. 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(2) authorizes Plan Participants to bring a civil action for appropriate relief under 29 U.S.C. § 1109.

DEFINED CONTRIBUTION INDUSTRY

35. Over the past three decades, defined contribution plans have become the most common employer-sponsored retirement plan. A defined contribution plan allows employees to make pre-tax elective deferrals through payroll deductions to an individual account under a plan. Among many options, employers may make contributions on behalf of all employees and/or make matching contributions based on the employees' elective deferrals. Employees with money in a plan are referred to as "Participants."

Retirement Plan Services

36. Defined Contribution plan fiduciaries virtually always hire service providers to deliver a retirement plan benefit to their employees. There is a large group of national retirement plan services providers (“RPSP”), commonly and generically referred to as “recordkeepers,” that have developed bundled service offerings that can meet all the needs of virtually all retirement plans. In some cases, these RPSP have developed all the capabilities “in-house,” while in other cases, the RPSP outsource some of the required services to other service providers.

37. These RPSP deliver all the essential recordkeeping and related administrative (“RK&A”) services through standard bundled offerings.

38. Historically the plan sponsors of 401(k) defined contribution retirement plans sometimes offered their retirement plan to their employees through a “multi-vendor” arrangement in which the employees could choose among several RPSP. Over time there are fewer and fewer plan sponsors using a “multi-vendor” approach because it is more costly with no

1 material benefit, less efficient, and requires a significant duplication of services. In virtually all
2 cases each RPSP has the capabilities to provide the same service to the employees that are 3 delivered by multiple providers in multi-vendor arrangements. As a result, for several years it has 4 been a best-practice for 401(k) plans to eliminate multi-vendor arrangements and 401(k) plan
5 sponsors have greatly reduced their use of the multi-vendor structure over the past several years.

7 39. There are two types of essential RK&A services provided by all RPSP. For large 8 plans with substantial bargaining power (like the Plan), the first type, “Bundled RK&A,” is 9 provided as part of a “bundled” fee for a buffet style level of service (meaning that the services
10 are provided in retirement industry parlance on an “all-you-can-eat” basis). The Bundled RK&A 11 services include, but are not limited to, the following standard services:
12

- 13 a. Recordkeeping;
- 14 b. Transaction Processing (which includes the technology to process purchases and sales of participants’ assets as well as providing the participants the access to investment options selected by the plan sponsor);
- 15 c. Administrative Services related to converting a plan from one RPSP to another
RPSP;
- 16 d. Participant communications (including employee meetings, call centers/phone support, voice response systems, web account access, and the preparation of other communications to participants, e.g., Summary Plan descriptions and other participant materials);
- 17 e. Maintenance of an employer stock fund (if needed);
- 18 f. Plan Document Services which include updates to standard plan documents to ensure compliance with new regulatory and legal requirements;
- 19 g. Plan consulting services including assistance in selecting the investments offered to participants;
- 20 h. Accounting and audit services including the preparation of annual reports, e.g., Form 5500 (not including the separate fee charged by an independent third-party auditor);
- 21 i. Compliance support which would include, e.g., assistance interpreting plan provisions and ensuring the operation of the plan is in compliance with legal requirements and the provisions of the plan (which would not include separate legal services provided by a third-party law firm); and

- j. Compliance testing to ensure the plan complies with Internal Revenue nondiscrimination rules.

40. The second type of essential RK&A services, hereafter referred to as “Ad Hoc RK&A” services, provided by all RPSP, often have separate, additional fees based on the conduct of individual participants and the usage of the service by individual participants (usage fees). The rationale is, for example, that one participant who does not take out a loan should not pay fees to cover the costs of other participants who choose to take a loan. These “Ad Hoc RK&A” services typically include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Loan Processing;
- b. Brokerage services / account maintenance (if offered by the plan);
- c. Distribution services; and
- d. Processing of Qualified Domestic Relations Orders.

41. For large plans with over 4,000 participants, like the Plan, any minor variations in the way that these two types of essential RK&A services, as well as any other RK&A services included in the bundled offering of RK&A services, are delivered has no material impact on the fees charged by RPSP. That fact is confirmed by the practice of all RPSP quoting fees for the Bundled RK&A services on a per participant basis without regard for any individual differences in services requested -- which are treated by the RPSP as immaterial because they are, in fact, inconsequential from a cost perspective to the delivery of the Bundled RK&A services.

42. The combination of Bundled RK&A Services and Ad Hoc RK&A services can be referred to as retirement plan services (“RPS”). The vast majority of fees earned by RPSP through providing RPS typically come from the bundled fee for providing the Bundled RK&A services as opposed to the Ad Hoc RK&A services.

43. The Plan had a standard package of RPS, i.e., Bundled RK&A Services and Ad Hoc RK&A services as described above.

1           44.    RPSP offer the same bundles and combinations of services as their competitors.
2   As a result, the market for defined contribution retirement plan services has become increasingly 3   price competitive, particularly for large plans that, like the Plan, have a sizable number of 4   participants and a large amount of assets.

5           45.    Over the past twenty years, the fees that RPSP have been willing to accept for 6   providing retirement plan services has significantly decreased. RPSP are willing (or 7   competitively required) to accept a lower and more competitive fee as a result of, among other
8   things, the competitive pressures created by greater information becoming available to plan
9   fiduciaries and the reduction in opaque fee structures.

10          46.    By the start of and during the entire Class Period, the level of fees that RPSP have 11   been willing to accept for providing RPS has stabilized, and has not materially changed for large 12   plans, including the Plan. In other words, reasonable RPS fees paid in 2018 or 2019 are 13   representative of the reasonable fees for RPS during the entire Class Period.

14          47.    The underlying cost to a RPSP of providing the RPS to a defined contribution
15   plan is primarily dependent on the number of participant accounts in the Plan rather than the 16   amount of assets in the Plan.

17          48.    The incremental cost for a RPSP to provide RPS for a participant's account does 18   not materially differ from one participant to another and is not dependent on the balance of the 19   participant's account.

20          49.    RSPS for relatively larger defined contribution plans, like the Plan, experience
21   certain efficiencies of scale that lead to a reduction in the per-participant cost as the number of 22   participants increase because the marginal cost of adding an additional participant to a 23   recordkeeping platform is relatively low.

          UNDER 29 U.S.C. § 1132(A)(2)
          (No. 2:21-cv-752) - 13

1       50. Therefore, while the total cost to an RPSP to deliver RPS increases as more
2 participants join the Plan, the cost per participant to deliver the RPS decreases.

3       51. Since at least the early 2000s, plan fiduciaries and their consultants and advisors
4 have been aware of this cost structure dynamic for RPSP.

5       52. Since at least the early 2000s, Defendants should have been aware of this cost
6 structure dynamic for RPSP.

7       53. Sponsors of defined contribution plans contract for RPS separately from any 8 contracts related to the provision of investment management services to plan participants.

9       54. The investment options selected by plan fiduciaries often have a portion of the 10 total expense ratio allocated to the provision of RPS performed by the RPSP on behalf of the 11 investment manager.

12       55. As a result, RPSP often make separate contractual arrangements with mutual fund
13 providers. For example, RPSP often collect a portion of the total expense ratio fee of the mutual 14 fund in exchange for providing services that would otherwise have to be provided by the mutual 15 fund. These fees are known as “revenue sharing.”

16       56. For example, if a mutual fund has a total expense ratio fee of 0.75%, the mutual
17 fund provider may agree to pay the RPSP 0.25% of the 0.75% total expense ratio fee that is paid 18 by the investor in that mutual fund (in this context the Plan Participant). That 0.25% portion of 19 the 0.75% total expense ratio fee is known as the “revenue sharing.”

20       57. In the context of defined contribution plans, the amount of revenue sharing is 21 deemed to be the amount of revenue paid by participants that is allocable to RPS. The difference
22 between the total expense ratio and the revenue sharing is known as the “Net Investment
23 Expense to Retirement Plans.”

1       58. In the context of defined contribution plans, when a Plan adopts prudent and best
2 practices, the Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans is the actual amount a Plan
3 Participant pays for the investment management services provided by a portfolio manager.

4       59. RPSP typically collect their fees through direct payments from the Plan or 5 through indirect compensation such as revenue sharing, or some combination of both.

7       60. Regardless of the pricing structure that the plan fiduciary negotiates with any 8 service provider, the amount of compensation paid to service providers, including the RPSP, 9 must be reasonable.

10      61. As a result, plan fiduciaries must understand the total dollar amounts paid to their 11 service providers, including the RPSP, and be able to determine whether the compensation is 12 reasonable by understanding what the market is for the RPS received by the Plan.
13

14      62. Because RPS fees are actually paid in dollars and because of the cost dynamic,
15 the fees paid for RPS are evaluated and compared on a dollar per participant basis.

16      63. It is well known among retirement Plan consultants and advisors (who often act as 17 co-fiduciaries to the Plan Fiduciaries) that, all else being equal, a Plan with more participants can 18 and will receive a lower effective per participant RPS fee when evaluated on a per participant 19 basis.
20

21      64. During the Class Period, Defendants knew and/or were aware that a Plan with 22 more participants can and will receive a lower effective per participant RPS fee when evaluated
23 on a per participant basis.
24

25      65. During the Class Period, Defendants knew and/or were aware that the Plan should 26 have received a lower effective per participant RPS fee when evaluated on a per participant basis.

1 Investments

2       66. Plan Fiduciaries of a defined contribution Plan have a continuing and regular 3 responsibility to select and monitor all investment options they make available to Plan
4 Participants.

5       67. The primary purpose in selecting Plan investments is to give all participants the 6 opportunity to create an appropriate asset allocation under modern portfolio theory by providing 7 diversified investment alternatives.

8       68. In selecting different investment options to make available to Plan Participants,
9 the Plan Fiduciaries are held to the prudent investor standard when choosing investment
10 managers or, alternatively, choosing index investment options. When choosing an active 11 investment option, the analysis is focused on determining whether the portfolio manager is likely 12 to outperform an appropriate benchmark.

13       69. Accordingly, the primary focus when choosing an active investment option to 14 make available to Plan Participants is the skill of the portfolio manager. In many cases, a plan 15 sponsor can receive the investment management services of the same portfolio manager through 16 different share classes. When the same investment management services are provided through a 17 mutual fund with different share classes, the fee paid to the portfolio manager is the same for all 18 share classes. The difference in the share class fees is the amount of additional fees which can be 19 used to pay for, among other things, RPS services.

20       70. As a result, when a prudent plan fiduciary can select from among several 21 alternative share classes of the identical investment option, the prudent plan fiduciary selects the 22 share class that provides the lowest Net Investment Management Expense to Retirement Plans.

THE PLAN

71. During the entire Class Period, the Plan received RPS from Transamerica Retirement Solutions LLC (“Transamerica”).

72. At all relevant times, the Plan's fees were excessive when compared with other comparable 401(k) Plans offered by other sponsors that had similar numbers of plan participants, and similar amounts of money under management. The fees were also excessive relative to the RPS services received. These excessive fees led to lower net returns than participants in comparable 401(k) Plans enjoyed.

73. During the Class Period, Defendants breached their duties owed to the Plan, to Plaintiff and all other Plan Participants, by: (1) failing to monitor the RPS fees paid by the plan to ensure that they were reasonable and, as a result, authorizing the plan to pay objectively unreasonable and excessive RPS fees, relative to the RPS services received; (2) failing to objectively and adequately review the Plan’s investment portfolio with due care to ensure that each investment option was prudent, in terms of cost; and (3) maintaining certain funds in the Plan despite the availability of identical or similar investment options with lower costs and/or better performance histories.

74. Defendants' mismanagement of the Plan, to the detriment of Plan Participants and beneficiaries, breached the fiduciary duties of prudence and loyalty in violation of 29 U.S.C. § 1104.

STANDARD OF CARE FOR PRUDENT FIDUCIARIES

SELECTING & MONITORING RECORDKEEPERS

75. A plan fiduciary is required to fully understand all sources of revenue received by all service providers, including its RPSP. It must regularly monitor that revenue to ensure that the compensation received is, and remains, reasonable for the services provided.

1       76. Prudent plan fiduciaries ensure they are paying only reasonable fees for RPS by 2 soliciting competitive bids from other service providers to perform the same services currently 3 being provided to the Plan. This is not a difficult or complex process and is performed regularly 4 by prudent plan fiduciaries.

5       77. Prudent plan fiduciaries have all of this information readily available and can 6 easily receive a quote from other RPSP to determine if the current level of RPS fees is 7 reasonable.

8       78. Having received bids, the prudent plan fiduciary can negotiate with its current 9 provider for a lower fee and/or move to a new provider to provide the same (or better) services 10 for a competitive reasonable fee if necessary.

11       79. Prudent plan fiduciaries follow this same process to monitor the fees of retirement 12 plan advisors and/or consultants as well as any other covered service providers.

13       80. After the revenue requirement is negotiated, the plan fiduciary determines how to 14 pay the negotiated RPS fee. The employer/plan sponsor can pay the RPS fee on behalf of 15 participants, which is the most beneficial to plan participants. If the employer were paying the 16 fee, the employer would have an interest in negotiating the lowest fee a suitable RPSP would 17 accept. Usually, however, the employer decides to have the plan (plan participants) pay the 18 RPS fee instead. If the RPS fee is paid by plan participants, the plan fiduciary can allocate the 19 negotiated fee among participant accounts on a per capita or pro-rata basis.

20       81. For example, if the plan negotiates a per participant revenue threshold of $30.00
21 for the Bundled RK&A, the plan does not need to require that each participant pay $30.00.
22 Rather, the plan fiduciary could determine that an asset-based fee is more appropriate for plan
23 participants and allocate the Bundled RK&A fee pro rata to participants. For example,

1 a 15,000 participant-plan with a $30.00 revenue threshold would pay $450,000 for RPS. If the 2 plan had $3,000,000,000 in assets, then the $450,000 would work out to 1.5 basis points.

3 Accordingly, the plan fiduciary could allocate the $450,000 to plan participants by requiring that 4 each participant pay 1.5 basis points.

5 82. In an asset-based pricing structure, the amount of compensation received by the 6 service provider is based on a percentage of the total assets in the plan. This structure creates
7 situations in which the RPS do not change but, because of market appreciation and contributions
8 to the plan, the revenue received by the RPSP increases. This structure was historically preferred
9 by RPSP because it allowed them to obtain an increase in revenue without having to ask the 10 client to pay a higher fee.

12 83. Regardless of the pricing structure, and Plaintiff states no preference, the plan
13 fiduciary must ensure that the fees paid to service providers for RPS are reasonable.

15 84. All of these standards were accepted and understood by prudent plan fiduciaries,
16 including Defendants, at all times during the Class Period.

17 85. For example, fiduciary best practices based on DOL guidelines, case law, and 18 marketplace experience are as follows:

- 19 1. Price administrative fees on a per-participant basis.
- 20 2. Benchmark and negotiate recordkeeping and investment fees separately.
- 21 3. Benchmark and negotiate investment fees regularly, considering both fund vehicle and asset size.
- 22 4. Benchmark and negotiate recordkeeping and trustee fees at least every other year.
- 23 . . .
- 25 7. Review services annually to identify opportunities to reduce administrative costs.<sup>1</sup>

Mercer Investment Consulting (2013).

1       86. Prudent fiduciaries implement three related processes to prudently manage and 2 control a plan’s RPS costs. Tussey v. ABB, Inc., 746 F.3d 327, 336 (8th Cir. 2014) (holding that 3 fiduciaries of a 401(k) Plan “breach[] their fiduciary duties” when they “fail[] to monitor and 4 control recordkeeping fees” incurred by the Plan); George v. Kraft Foods Glob., Inc., 641 F.3d
5 786, 800 (7th Cir. 2011) (explaining that defined contribution plan fiduciaries have a “duty to 6 ensure that [the recordkeeper’s] fees [are] reasonable”).

7       87. First, a plan fiduciary must pay close attention to the RPS fees being paid by the 8 Plan. A hypothetical prudent fiduciary tracks the RPSP’s expenses by demanding documents that 9 summarize and contextualize the RPSP’s compensation, such as fee transparencies, fee analyses,
10 fee summaries, relationship pricing analyses, cost-competitiveness analyses, and multi-practice
11 and standalone pricing reports.

12       88. Second, to make an informed evaluation as to whether a RPSP or other service
13 provider is receiving no more than a reasonable fee for the services provided to a plan, a prudent
14 hypothetical fiduciary must identify all fees, including direct compensation and revenue sharing
15 being paid to the plan’s RPSP. To the extent that a plan’s investments pay asset-based revenue 16 sharing to the RPSP, prudent fiduciaries monitor the amount of the payments to ensure that the 17 RPSP’s total compensation from all sources does not exceed reasonable levels, and require that 18 any revenue sharing payments that exceed a reasonable level be returned to the plan and its 19 participants.

20       89. Third, a hypothetical plan fiduciary must remain informed about overall trends in 21 the marketplace regarding the fees being paid by other plans, as well as the RPS rates that are 22 available. This will generally include conducting a Request for Proposal (“RFP”) process at 23 reasonable intervals, and immediately if the plan’s recordkeeping/RPS expenses have grown

1 significantly or appear high in relation to the general marketplace.

2       90. That said, by merely soliciting bids from other RPSP, a prudent plan fiduciary can 3 quickly and easily gain an understanding of the current market for similar RPS services and have 4 an idea of a starting point for negotiation. Accordingly, the only way to determine the true
5 market price at a given time is to obtain competitive bids through some process. See George v.
6 Kraft Foods Global, Inc., 641 F.3d 786, 800 (7th Cir. 2011) (failure to solicit bids, and higher-7 than-market recordkeeping fees, supported triable fiduciary breach claim).

9       THE PLAN'S FIDUCIARIES DID NOT EFFECTIVELY MONITOR RPS FEES
10      AND, AS A RESULT, THE PLAN PAID UNREASONABLE RPS FEES

11       91. A plan fiduciary must continuously monitor its RPS fees by regularly soliciting
12 competitive bids to ensure fees paid to covered service providers (such as RPSP) are reasonable.

13       92. During the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known that they must 14 regularly monitor the Plan's RPS fees paid to covered service providers, including but not 15 limited to Transamerica.

16       93. During the Class Period, Defendants failed to regularly monitor the Plan's RPS
17 fees paid to covered service providers, including but not limited to Transamerica.

18       94. During the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known that they must 19 regularly solicit quotes and/or competitive bids from covered service providers, including but not 20 limited to Transamerica, in order to avoid paying objectively unreasonable fees for RPS services.

21       95. During the Class Period, Defendants failed to regularly solicit quotes and/or 22 competitive bids from covered service providers, including but not limited to Transamerica, in 23 order to avoid paying unreasonable fees for RPS services.

24       96. During the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known that it was in

2       97. During the Class Period, and unlike a hypothetical prudent fiduciary, Defendants
3 failed to ensure that the Plan paid no more than a competitive reasonable fee for RPS services.

4       98. During the Class Period, and unlike a hypothetical prudent fiduciary, Defendants
5 followed a fiduciary process that was done ineffectively given the objectively unreasonable fees
6 paid for RPS services.

7       99. During the Class Period, and unlike a hypothetical prudent fiduciary, Defendants
8 did not engage in objectively reasonable and/or prudent efforts to ensure that the Plan paid no
9 more than a competitive reasonable fee for RPS services.

10      100. During the Class Period and because Defendants failed to regularly monitor the 11 Plan's RPS fees paid to covered service providers, including but not limited to Transamerica, the 12 Plan's RPS service fees were significantly higher than they would have been had Defendants 13 engaged in this process.

14      101. During the Class Period, given the Plan's objectively unreasonable RPS fees, 15 Defendants engaged in an ineffective fiduciary process in soliciting competitive bids for these 16 services.

17      102. During the Class Period and because Defendants did not engage in objectively

6       STANDARD OF CARE FOR PRUDENT FIDUCIARIES SELECTING
7       & MONITORING INVESTMENT OPTIONS

8       118. For all practical purposes, there is a commonly accepted process to select and 9 monitor investment options which is based on modern portfolio theory and the prudent investor
10 standard. Under ERISA, plan fiduciaries are required to engage investment consultants or 11 advisors to the extent that the plan fiduciaries do not have the investment expertise necessary to 12 select and monitor investments under modern portfolio theory.

13       119. That accepted process involves, among other things, evaluating the performance 14 history, tenure, and stability of the current portfolio manager; the risk adjusted returns; and the 15 fees.

16       120. When an active investment option is chosen, one of the most critical aspects of 17 the analysis is to choose a portfolio manager because it is the skill of the portfolio manager that 18 differentially impacts the performance of the investment.

20       121. From the perspective of a plan participant, the other critical component of the 21 analysis is the fees. However, the total expense ratio of an investment option is often comprised 22 of multiple different types of fees, only one of which is specifically associated with the fee of the 23 actual portfolio manager.

24       122. As a result, a plan fiduciary is required to understand the interrelationship
25 between the pricing structure it has negotiated with the RPSP for RPS services as well as the 26 different fee components of the investment options selected to be made available to plan

1 participants.

2       123. Plan fiduciaries of plans as large as the Defendant's Plan are deemed to be
3 "Institutional Investors" and are deemed to have a higher level of knowledge and understanding
4 of the different investment share classes and the different components of fees within the total
5 expense ratio of an investment option.

6       124. In fact, as "Institutional Investors," retirement plans often have the ability to 7 access investment options and service structures that are not available or understood by retail
8 investors such as individual plan participants like Plaintiff.

9       125. For example, minimum investment requirements and other fees or restrictions are 10 routinely waived for large retirement plans and were waived with the Plan's investments.

11       126. As a result, when a plan fiduciary can choose among different share classes
12 (or other types of investment options, e.g., collective trusts) to receive the services of a specific 13 portfolio manager, the plan fiduciary is required to understand all the fees related to the different 14 share classes and collective trusts and choose the share class or collective trust that is in the best
15 interest of the plan participants. This is especially critical when the pricing structure provides 16 compensation to the RPSP from revenue sharing paid by plan participants as part of the total 17 expense ratio of the investment options selected by the plan fiduciaries.

18       127. If a plan fiduciary chooses an active investment option, whether either a less 19 costly active investment option or an alternative index option, the plan fiduciary must make a 20 specific and informed finding that the probability that the active portfolio manager will 21 outperform the alternative active investment option or index warrants the higher fees charged by 22 the active portfolio manager and the risk/reward tradeoffs show that the potential of 23 outperformance is in the best interest of plan participants.

128. If a plan fiduciary chooses an active investment option when a less costly active investment option or alternative index option is available, but the plan fiduciary does not make a specific and informed finding that the probability that the active portfolio manager will outperform the index (and warranting the higher fees charged by the active portfolio manager) and the risk/reward tradeoffs show that the potential of outperformance is in the best interest of plan participants, the plan fiduciary has acted unreasonably and/or imprudently.

THE PLAN PAID UNREASONABLY HIGH FEES FOR IMPRUDENT SHARE CLASSES

129. Many mutual funds offer multiple classes of shares in a single mutual fund that are targeted at different investors. Generally, more expensive shares are targeted at small investors with less bargaining power, while lower cost shares are targeted at larger investors with greater assets.

130. There is no material difference between share classes other than costs – the funds hold identical investments and have the same portfolio manager.

131. As noted above, it is well known among institutional investors that mutual fund companies routinely waive investment minimums for large retirement plans, and they did so with the Plan. Moreover, large defined contribution plans such as the Plan have sufficient assets to qualify for most of the lowest cost share classes.

132. So, unlike individual or retail investors, retirement plan fiduciaries often have access to several different share classes. A prudent plan fiduciary ensures that the plan selects the share class that provides the greatest benefit to plan participants given the institutional advantages provided to retirement plans in relation to retail investors. The share class that provides the greatest benefit to plan participants is the share class that gives plan participants

1 and is referred to as the “Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans.”

2       133. As described in more detail below, choosing the share class that provides the 3 lowest Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans is always the prudent choice because the use
4 of the share class that provides the lowest Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans will 5 result in one of the following superior options: 1) The amount of the fee extraction to cover the 6 RPS fee will be lower; or 2) the amount of excess revenue being credited back to participant 7 accounts is greater.

8       134. During the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known that they are 9 required to select the share classes that provide the greatest benefit to plan participants, i.e., the 10 lowest Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans.

11       135. During the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known that it must 12 engage in an objectively reasonable search for and selection of the share classes that provide the 13 greatest benefit to plan participants, i.e., the lowest Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans.

14       136. During the Class Period, in many cases Defendants did not use share classes that 15 provide the greatest benefit to plan participants and in some cases even switched from one share
16 class to a different share class that charged a higher Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans.

17       137. During the Class Period, Defendants did not engage in an objectively reasonable
18 search for and selection of the share classes that provide the greatest benefit to plan participants, 19 i.e., the lowest Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans.

20       138. The following charts identifies one of Defendants’ share class investments during 21 the Class Period vis-à-vis the prudent alternative that provided the greatest benefit to Plan
22 Participants:

139. The underlying data and information reflected in the charts above are truthful, 9 accurate, and derived from publicly available information, which was equally as available to 10 Defendants during the Class Period, including, but not limited to, standard reports prepared by 11 the Defendants' RPS provider as well as the 408(b)(2) Fee Disclosure documents provided to the 12 Defendant Plan by its RPSP.

140. Based upon data and information reflected in the charts above, the excessive 15 fee paid by Participants during the Class Period as a result of Defendants' failure to use the 16 prudent alternative share class that provided the greatest benefit to Plan Participants was 17 approximately 17%.

141. There is no rational reason for a prudent plan fiduciary to choose an investment
 19 option that effectively charges a fee that is approximately 17% higher than an alternative 20 investment option that provides the identical services of the same portfolio manager.

22 142. During the Class Period, and had Defendants engaged in a prudent process to 23 select the share class of a selected portfolio manager that provides the greatest benefit to plan
 24 participants, the Plan would not have selected the share classes listed in the "Defendants'
 25 Investment" column of the chart above.

1           143. During the Class Period, and had Defendants engaged in a prudent process, once a
2 portfolio manager had been selected, the Defendants would have selected the share classes listed
3 in the “Prudent Alternative Share Class” column of the chart above.

4           144. During the Class Period, and had Defendants engaged in an objectively
5 reasonable search for, and selection of, the share class that provided the greatest benefit to Plan
6 Participants, the Plan would not have selected the funds in the “Defendants’ Investment” column
7 in the chart above.

8           145. During the Class Period, and had Defendants engaged in an objectively
9 reasonable search for, and selection of, the share class that provided the greatest benefit to Plan
10 Participants, the Plan would have selected the funds in the “Prudent Alternative Share Class” 11 columns of the charts above.

12           146. During the Class Period, and had Defendants been acting in the best interests of 13 the Plan’s Participants, the Plan would not have selected the funds in the “Defendants’ 14 Investment” columns of the charts above.

15           147. During the Class Period and had Defendants been acting in the best interests of 16 the Plan’s Participants, the Plan would have selected the funds in the “Prudent Alternative Share 17 Class” columns of the charts above.

18           148. During the entirety of the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known 19 about the existence of alternative share classes of the same mutual funds currently selected and 20 performed the analysis to determine the share class that provides the greatest benefit to Plan
21 Participants, as identified in the “Prudent Alternative Share Class” column of the chart above.

22           149. During the entirety of the Class Period, Defendants knew or should have known
23 to transfer the Plan funds into the share class that provides the greatest benefit to Plan

2       150. A hypothetical prudent fiduciary would not select share classes that result in 3 higher fees to Plan Participants when share classes that result in lower fees to Plan Participants
4 are available for the identical portfolio management services.

5       151. During the entirety of the Class Period, Defendants selected share classes that 6 resulted in higher fees to Plan Participants when share classes of the identical investment option
7 were available that would have resulted in lower fees, to the substantial detriment of Plaintiff and 8 the Plan’s Participants.

9       152. During the entirety of the Class Period and because Defendants selected share
10 classes that resulted in higher fees when share classes that resulted in lower fees were available
11 to the Plan for the identical investment option, the Plaintiff and the Plan Participants did not 12 receive any additional services or benefits other than a higher cost for Plaintiff and the Plan
13 Participants.

14       153. For example, the FMI Common Stock Institutional (FMIUX) was selected by plan
15 fiduciaries and made available to Participants in the Plan from 2015 through at least 2020.

16       154. As of December 31, 2019, Plan Participants had invested more than $5,285,980 in 17 this investment option. The portfolio managers of this investment option were Patrick J. English, 18 John S. Brandser and Robert M. Helf (English, Brandser, & Helf). Plan Participants can receive 19 the identical portfolio management services of English, Brandser, & Helf through several 20 different investment options (share classes) with different fee structures. The fee structures for 21 the varying share classes of this investment option, all managed by English, Brandser, & Helf,
22 are set forth in the chart below:

The underlying data and information reflected in the chart above is truthful, accurate, and derived from publicly available information, which was equally as available to Defendants during the Class Period including, but not limited to, standard reports prepared by the Defendants' RPS provider as well as the 408(b)(2) Fee Disclosure documents provided to the Defendant Plan by its RPSP.

156. In the second to last row of the chart above, "Revenue Sharing Credit," is the portion of the "Total Expense Ratio" that is allocable to the provision of RPS.

157. As a result, the fee paid for the portfolio management services of the portfolio managers English, Brandser, & Helf to pursue the identical investment strategy with the same goals, objectives, and risk profile is the "Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans" set forth in the bottom row.

158. As illustrated in the chart above, the FMI Common Stock Investor (FMIMX) has the lowest "Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans" at 0.61%. Despite the Total Expense

1 Ratio being higher, the FMI Common Stock Investor (FMIMX) provides the greatest benefit to 2 Plan Participants because the 0.40% in revenue sharing that is allocable to RPS services is a
3 credit that can be returned to the participants directly or used as a credit against the RPS fee. If 4 the 0.40% allocable to RPS services exceeds the actual RPS fee, then the excess can also be 5 returned to the Plan and its Participants.

7 159. During the Class Period, Plan Participants would have received the lowest
8 possible fee for the portfolio management services of English, Brandser, & Helf if invested in the 9 FMI Common Stock Investor (FMIMX).

10 160. When two identical service options are readily available (in this case the portfolio 11 management services of English, Brandser, & Helf), and would be known as part of the standard
12 of care related to selecting and monitoring investment options, a prudent plan fiduciary ensures 13 that the least expensive of those options is selected.
14

15 161. A prudent plan fiduciary understands that the higher “sticker” price of the RPS
16 fee portion of the expense ratio is not relevant since the RPS service provider returns excess
17 revenue to the Plan and its Participants.

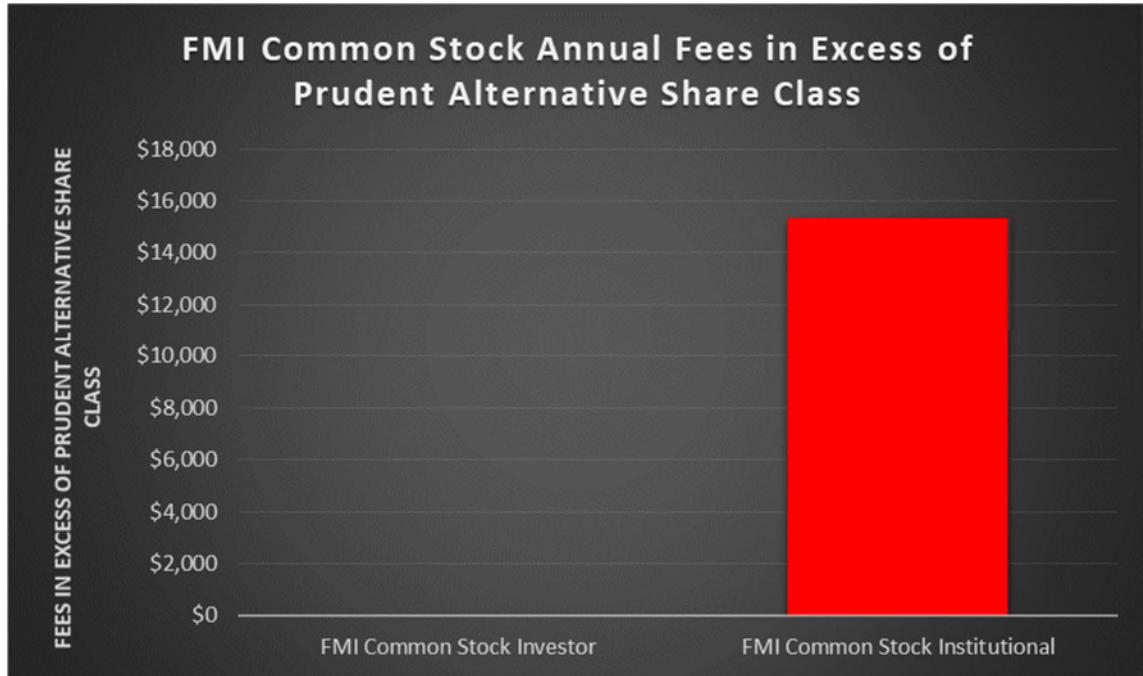

18 162. The DOL requires plan fiduciaries to understand all the fees related to all the 19 various services provided to the Plan and its participants. By selecting an investment option that 20 charges more for identical portfolio management services, the Defendant plan fiduciaries
21 breached their duty.
22

23 163. As illustrated in the chart below, which is based on the $5,285,980 that the Plan
24 invested in FMI Common Stock Institutional (FMIUX) as of December 31, 2019, because 25 Defendants did not select the share class that provided the greatest benefit to Plan Participants,

13        164. The underlying data and information reflected in the chart above is truthful,
14 accurate, and derived from publicly available information, which was equally as available to 15 Defendants during the Class Period.

16        165. A hypothetical prudent fiduciary conducting an impartial and objectively
17 reasonable review of the Plan's investments during the Class Period would have conducted a 18 review on a quarterly basis, which would have identified and selected the share class that 19 provided the greatest benefit to Plan Participants.

20        166. A hypothetical prudent fiduciary conducting an impartial and objectively
21 reasonable review of the Plan's investments during the Class Period would have conducted a 22 review on a quarterly basis, would have identified the share class that provided the greatest 23 benefit to Plan Participants, and would have transferred the Plan's investments into the prudent 24 share classes at the earliest opportunity.

1       167. During the entirety of the Class Period, Defendants: 1) did not conduct an 2 impartial and objectively reasonable review of the Plan's investments on a quarterly basis; 2)
3 did not identify the prudent share classes available to the Plan; and 3) did not transfer the Plan's
4 investments into this prudent share class at the earliest opportunity.

5       168. During the Class Period and because Defendants failed to act in the best interests
6 of the Plan's Participants by engaging in an objectively reasonable process when selecting its 7 share classes, Defendants caused unreasonable and unnecessary losses to the Plan's Participants
8 through 2019 in the amount of approximately $102,110 and as detailed in the following chart:

Actual Investment Lineup
	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019
Net Investment Expense to Retirement Plans	$300,358	$247,258	$275,329	$263,904	$362,253

Est. Cumulative Investment Damages	$9,612	$22,404	$45,925	$60,813	$102,110

18       169. During the entirety of the Class Period, and by failing to recognize that the Plan
19 was invested in a share class that resulted in higher fees when a share class that resulted in lower
20 fees to Plan Participants was available for the same investment, and/or by failing to take effective
21 remedial actions as described herein, Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Plaintiff and 22 the Plan Participants.

4       176. During the Class Period, Defendants did not engage in an objectively reasonable

6       177. During the Class Period and because Defendants did not engage in an objectively

9       178. During the Class Period and had Defendants engaged in an objectively reasonable

1           183. During the Class Period, Plaintiff had no knowledge of how the fees charged to 2 and paid by the Plan Participants compared to any other funds.

3           184. During the Class Period, Plaintiff did not know about the availability of lower-
4 cost and better-performing (and other essentially identical) investment options that Defendants
5 failed to reasonably offer because Defendants provided no comparative information to allow 6 Plaintiff to evaluate and compare Defendants' investment options.

7           185. During the Class Period, Defendants failed to reasonably and properly evaluate 8 the true cost of the services of each portfolio manager under the fee structure negotiated with 9 Transamerica, thereby paying fees that were more than necessary to the detriment of Plaintiff
10 and the Plan's Participants.

11           186. During the Class Period and had Defendants chosen investment options similar or 12 identical to the funds identified in the "Prudent Alternative Investments" column in the charts

17 Investments" column in the charts above, Defendants' caused unreasonable and unnecessary
18 losses to Plaintiff and Plan's Participants.

19           188. During the Class Period, Defendants failed to consider materially similar but 20 cheaper alternatives to the Plan's investment options. The chart above demonstrates that the 21 expense ratios of the Plan's investment options between the years 2015 to 2020 were more
22 expensive by significant multiples of comparable actively managed and passively managed
23 alternative funds in the same investment style. A reasonable investigation would have revealed

1 the existence of these lower-cost alternatives.

2 189. During the Class Period and because Defendants failed to act in the best interests
3 of the Plan's Participants by engaging in an objectively reasonable investigation process when 4 selecting its investments, resulting in the selection of funds identified in the "Defendants'
5 Investment" column in the charts above, Plaintiff and the Plan's Participants incurred actual

7 190. During the Class Period and had Defendants acted in the best interests of the 8 Plan's Participants by engaging in an objectively reasonable investigation process when selecting 9 its investments, Defendants would have prudently chosen lower-cost investment alternatives as 10 identified in the "Alternative Investment Lineup" portion of the chart below.

11 191. During the Class Period and because Defendants failed to act in the best interests
12 of the Plan's Participants by engaging in an objectively reasonable investigation process when 13 selecting its investments, Defendants caused objectively unreasonable and unnecessary losses to 14 Plaintiff and the Plan's Participants in the amount of approximately $906,273 through 2019 and 15 as detailed in the following chart:

3 Defendants during the Class Period, including but not limited to Plaintiff's Plan quarterly
4 statements, the Plan's Summary Description, and the Plan's participant fee disclosures.

6           193. During the entirety of the Class Period and by failing to engage in an objectively

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

10          194. 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(2) authorizes any participant or beneficiary of the Plan to 11 bring an action individually on behalf of the Plan to enforce a breaching fiduciary's liability to 12 the Plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1109(a).
13

14          195. In acting in this representative capacity, Plaintiff seeks to certify this action as a 15 class action on behalf of all participants and beneficiaries of the Plan. Plaintiff seeks to certify,
16 and to be appointed as representatives of, the following Class:
17

18           All participants and beneficiaries of the Generac Power Systems, Inc. Employees 19 401(k) Savings Plan (excluding the Defendants or any participant/beneficiary who is a fiduciary to the Plan) beginning June 8, 2015, and running through the date of judgment.

21          196. The Class includes over 4,000 members and is so large that joinder of all its 22 members is impracticable, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1).
23

24          197. There are questions of law and fact common to this Class pursuant to Federal 25 Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(2), because Defendants owed fiduciary duties to the Plan and took 26 the actions and omissions alleged as the Plan and not as to any individual participant. Common questions of law and fact include but are not limited to the following:

1           • Whether Defendants are fiduciaries liable for the remedies provided by 2           29 U.S.C. § 1109(a);
3           • Whether Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to the Plan;
4           • What are the losses to the Plan resulting from each breach of fiduciary 5           duty; and
6           • What Plan-wide equitable and other relief the Court should impose in light
7           of Defendants' breach of duty.

8           198. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class pursuant to Federal Rule of 9           Civil Procedure 23(a)(3), because Plaintiff was a participant during the time period at issue and 10           all participants in the Plan were harmed by Defendants' misconduct.

11           199. Plaintiff will adequately represent the Class pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil 12           Procedure 23(a)(4), because they are participants in the Plan during the Class period, have no
13           interest that conflicts with the Class, are committed to the vigorous representation of the Class,
14           and have engaged experienced and competent lawyers to represent the Class.

15           200. Certification is appropriate under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(1), 16           because prosecution of separate actions for these breaches of fiduciary duties by individual
17           participants and beneficiaries would create the risk of (1) inconsistent or varying adjudications
18           that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant concerning its discharge of 19           fiduciary duties to the Plan and personal liability to the Plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1109(a), and 20           (2) adjudications by individual participants and beneficiaries regarding these breaches of 21           fiduciary duties and remedies for the Plan would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the 22           interests of the participants and beneficiaries who are not parties to the adjudication, or would 23           substantially impair those participants' and beneficiaries' ability to protect their interests.

24           201. Certification is also appropriate under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2)
25           because Defendants have acted or refused to act on grounds that apply generally to the Class, so

1 that final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the class
2 as a whole.

3 202. Plaintiff's attorneys are experienced in complex ERISA and class litigation and 4 will adequately represent the Class.

5 203. The claims brought by the Plaintiff arise from fiduciary breaches as to the Plan in 6 its entirety and do not involve mismanagement of individual accounts.

7 204. The claims asserted on behalf of the Plans in this case fall outside the scope of 8 any exhaustion language in individual participants' Plans. Exhaustion is intended to serve as an 9 administrative procedure for participants and beneficiaries whose claims have been denied and 10 not where a participant or beneficiary brings suit on behalf of a Plan for breaches of fiduciary 11 duty.

12 205. Under ERISA, an individual "participant" or "beneficiary" are distinct from an 13 ERISA Plan. A participant's obligation – such as a requirement to exhaust administrative 14 remedies – does not, by itself, bind the Plan.

15 206. Moreover, any administrative appeal would be futile because the entity hearing
16 the appeal (the Plan Administrator) is the same Plan Administrator that made the decisions that 17 are at issue in this lawsuit. Policy supporting exhaustion of administrative remedies in certain 18 circumstances – that the Court should review and where appropriate defer to a Plan
19 administrator's decision – does not exist here because courts will not defer to Plan
20 administrator's legal analysis and interpretation.

5           210. Defendants, as fiduciaries of the Plan, are responsible for selecting a RPSP that

23           214. During the Class Period, Defendants breached their duty to Plan Participants,

4           223. During the Class Period, Defendants had a fiduciary duty to do all of the

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Failure to Adequately Monitor Other Fiduciaries under ERISA, as Amended (Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and Class, Against All Defendants – RPS Fees)

233. Plaintiff restates the above allegations as if fully set forth herein.

234. Defendants had the authority to appoint and remove members or individuals responsible for Plan RPS fees and knew or should have known that these fiduciaries had critical responsibilities for the Plan.

235. In light of this authority, Defendants had a duty to monitor those individuals responsible for Plan RPS fees to ensure that they were adequately performing their fiduciary obligations, and to take prompt and effective action to protect the Plan in the event that these individuals were not fulfilling those duties.

236. Defendants had a duty to ensure that the individuals responsible for Plan administration possessed the needed qualifications and experience to carry out their duties (or use qualified advisors and service providers to fulfill their duties); had adequate financial resources and information; maintained adequate records of the information on which they based their decisions and analysis with respect to the Plan's investments; and reported regularly to Defendants.

237. The excessive RPS fees paid by the Plan inferentially suggest that Generac and the Board breached their duty to monitor by, among other things:

a. Failing to monitor and evaluate the performance of individuals responsible for Plan RPS fees or have a system in place for doing so, standing idly by as the Plan suffered significant losses in the form of unreasonably high RPS expenses;

b. Failing to monitor the process by which the Plan's RPSP were evaluated and failing to investigate the availability of lower-cost recordkeepers; and

c. Failing to remove individuals responsible for Plan RPS fees whose performance was inadequate in that these individuals continued to pay the same RPS costs even though benchmarking and using other similar comparators would have showed that maintaining Transamerica as the RPSP at the contracted price was imprudent, excessively costly, all to the detriment of the Plan and Plan Participants' retirement savings.

238. As the consequences of the foregoing breaches of the duty to monitor for RPS fees the Plaintiff and Plan Participants suffered unreasonable and unnecessary monetary losses.

239. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §§1109(a) and 1132(a)(2), Defendants are liable to restore to the Plan all losses caused by their failure to adequately monitor individuals responsible for Plan RPS fees. In addition, Plaintiffs are entitled to equitable relief and other appropriate relief as set forth in the Prayer for Relief.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Failure to Adequately Monitor Other Fiduciaries under ERISA, as Amended (Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and Class,

240. Plaintiff restates the above allegations as if fully set forth herein.

241. Defendants had the authority to appoint and remove members or individuals responsible for Plan investment management and were aware that these fiduciaries had critical responsibilities for the Plan.

242. In light of this authority, Defendants had a duty to monitor those individuals responsible for Plan investment management to ensure that they were adequately performing their fiduciary obligations, and to take prompt and effective action to protect the Plan in the event that these individuals were not fulfilling those duties.

3 they based their decisions and analysis with respect to the Plan's investments; and reported

5       244. The excessive investment management and share class fees paid by the Plan
6 inferentially suggest that Generac and the Board breached their duty to monitor by, among other 7 things:

8           a. Failing to monitor and evaluate the performance of individuals responsible for 9 Plan investment management or have a system in place for doing so, standing idly by as 10 the Plan suffered significant losses in the form of unreasonably high expenses, improper
11 choice of fund share classes, and inefficient fund management styles that adversely
12 affected the investment performance of the funds' and their Participants' assets as a result 13 of these individuals responsible for Plan imprudent actions and omissions;

14           b. Failing to monitor the process by which Plan investments were evaluated, failing 15 to investigate the availability of lower-cost share classes, and failing to investigate the 16 availability of lower-cost collective trust vehicles; and

17           c. Failing to remove individuals responsible for Plan administration whose 18 performance was inadequate in that they continued to maintain imprudent, excessively
19 costly, and poorly performing investments within the Plan, all to the detriment of the Plan
20 and Plan Participants' retirement savings.

21       245. As a result of Defendants' foregoing breaches of the duty to monitor, the Plaintiff
22 and Plan Participants suffered unreasonable and unnecessary monetary losses.

23       246. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §§1109(a) and 1132(a)(2), Defendants are liable to restore

1 to the Plan all losses caused by their failure to adequately monitor individuals responsible for Plan
2 administration. In addition, Plaintiffs are entitled to equitable relief and other appropriate relief
3 as set forth in the Prayer for Relief.

4 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays that judgment be entered against Defendants on all

- 6 A. A determination that this action may proceed as a class action under Rule

- 9 B. Designation of Plaintiff as Class Representative and designation of Plaintiff's

- 11 C. A Declaration the Defendants have breached their fiduciary duties under ERISA;
- 12 D. An Order compelling the Defendants to make good to the Plan all losses to the 14 the Plan all losses resulting from imprudent investment of the Plan's assets, 15 restoring to the Plan all profits the Defendants made through use of the Plan's assets, and restoring to the Plan all profits which the Participants would have made if the Defendants had fulfilled their fiduciary obligation;

- 16 E. An Order requiring Defendant Generac to disgorge all profits received from, or in 17 respect of, the Plan, and/or equitable relief pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(3) in 18 the form of an accounting for profits, imposition of constructive trust, or surcharge against Generac as necessary to effectuate relief, and to prevent Generac' unjust enrichment;
- 19 F. An Order enjoining Defendants from any further violation of their ERISA 20 fiduciary responsibilities, obligations, and duties;
- 21 G. Other equitable relief to redress Defendants' illegal practices and to enforce the 22 provisions of ERISA as may be appropriate, including appointment of an independent fiduciary or fiduciaries to run the Plan and removal of plan 23 fiduciaries deemed to have breached their fiduciary duties;
- 24 H. An award of pre-judgment interest;
